

Between Shades of Gray

Ruta Sepetys

Question	Reference	Question ID
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book is a character taken in her nightgown?	Page 3	Q0001
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book is burning family photos in the fireplace a sign?	Page 3	Q0002
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character sew her best silver and jewelry into the lining of her coat late at night?	Page 3	Q0003
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character open a new ivory writing tablet and a case of pens and pencils, a gift for her fifteenth birthday?	Page 3	Q0004
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does the evening breeze float through an open window over a desk, waltzing the curtain from side to side?	Page 3	Q0005
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book can a character smell the lily of the valley that she and her mother planted two years ago, through an open window?	Page 3-4	Q0006
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does an urgent booming make a character jump in her chair?	Page 4	Q0007
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character stand flat against a wall facing a framed map of a country with her eyes closed, praying?	Page 4	Q0008
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book is a character elegant and beautiful, stunning in fact, with an unusually wide smile that lights up everything around her?	Page 4	Q0009
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book is a character fortunate to have her mother's honey-colored hair and her bright blue eyes?	Page 4	Q0010
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book do officers wear blue hats with a red border and a gold star above the brim?	Page 4	Q0011
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book is a burning cigarette thrown onto a clean living room and ground into the wood?	Page 5	Q0012
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character feel she and her family are about to become cigarettes?	Page 5	Q0013
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a loaf of bread appear on a windowsill with a large wad of rubles tucked under the edge?	Page 6	Q0014
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book must characters move quickly and pack all that is useful but not necessarily dear to them?	Page 6	Q0015
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book is a character told clothes and shoes are a priority and to try to fit all she can in one suitcase?	Page 6	Q0016
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character quickly slide bread and money onto a desk and snap curtains shut?	Page 6	Q0017
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book are characters told, "We must not pull family or friends into this confusion, do you understand? Even if someone calls out to you, you must not respond"?	Page 6	Q0018
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a bedroom begin to spin and her mother's voice echo inside a character's head?	Page 7	Q0019
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does the sound of her brother running about his room pull a cord within a character's consciousness?	Page 7	Q0020
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character yell down a hallway, "Shoes ... extra socks, a coat"?	Page 7	Q0021
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book is a family photo from a shelf in a gold frame placed faceup in the bottom of an empty suitcase?	Page 7	Q0022
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character feel her family cannot be going to jail, because they have done nothing wrong?	Page 7	Q0023
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character throw open closets and drawers, frantically throwing things, shoving things in a suitcase?	Page 7	Q0024
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book is a character dressed for school in his uniform and little tie, holding his book bag?	Page 8	Q0025
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character stammer, choking on the word "No" when she sees her son dressed for academy?	Page 8	Q0026
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character put on sandals, grab two books, hair ribbons and her hairbrush?	Page 8	Q0027
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book are a writing tablet, a case of pens and pencils and a bundle of rubles placed among the heap of items thrown in a character's case?	Page 8	Q0028
<input type="checkbox"/> In which book does a character rush out of a room, as curtains blow, flapping over a loaf of fresh bread still sitting on a desk?	Page 8	Q0029