

mBOBQuiz created for dmilem

Question	Title	Author	Reference
1. In which book is a character's voice tinny and grainy as it emanates from a music-box device deep inside his metal body?	Etiquette and Espionage	Gail Carriger	Page 6
2. In which book does a character rotate which nest he steals eggs from, worried that a farmer might notice that a hen isn't laying as many as she used to?	Stones in Water	Donna Jo Napoli	Page 73
3. In which book does a character miss being the top chef?	The Crossover	Kwame Alexander	Page 167
4. In which book does a character turn alliance negotiations upside down in less than twenty-four hours?	Cinder	Marissa Meyer	Page 214
5. In which book is a character surprised when his guardian asks him to accompany him to go and get food?	The Graveyard Book	Neil Gaiman	Page 290
6. In which book does a mother leave the family and run off with the church pastor?	Brown Girl Dreaming	Jacqueline Woodson	Page 66
7. In which book does the blessing of corn pollen help keep a character calm and balanced and safe?	Code Talker	Joseph Bruchac	Page 82
8. In which book does a character imagine Orion buckling on his sparkly belt before the nights' hunt?	Wild Things	Clay Carmichael	Page 27
9. In which book does a character shake his head as he wraps a deadbolt in a thick shop rag and places it by the base of the door?	The Great Greene Heist	Varian Johnson	Page 18
10. In which book does a character sit and brood with his two dogs crouched and trembling at his feet?	White Fang	Jack London	Page 31
11. In which book does a character ask, "They make computers for the special eddies?"	Out of My Mind	Sharon M. Draper	Page 141
12. In which book does a character say, "Mom, it's not like you have to know someone well to hate their guts. You don't sit around and have a long conversation and then decide whether or not to hate their guts"?	The Wednesday Wars	Gary D. Schmidt	Page 6
13. In which book is "aphasia" defined as the inability to speak?	Phineas Gage	John Fleischman	Page 55
14. In which book does a character understand what it is like to have an authority figure for a father who expects a lot of his son?	Left for Dead	Peter Nelson	Page 17
15. In which book does a character pace a study floor anxiously, dressed in dark trousers and jacket?	Incarceron	Catherine Fisher	Page 380

16. In which book do people see growing a product in the New World with slave labor as a road to vast wealth?	Sugar Changed the World	Marc Aronson and Marina Budhos	Page 32
17. In which book does a character have a polished mahogany peg extending below one of his knees?	The Nine Pound Hammer	John Claude Bemis	Page 50
18. In which book does a character spy some fresh doughnuts being dipped in hot oil and topped with chocolate, raspberry jam, or powdered sugar?	Rebels of the Kasbah	Joe O'Neill	Page 52
19. In which book does a character slap a boy with the full force of her fury?	Everlost	Neal Shusterman	Page 299
20. In which book does a character learn how to figure people out and determine who really wants directions to a casino and who wants something else?	One for the Murphys	Lynda Mullaly Hunt	Page 39
21. In which book does a character admit she has never understood coloring books?	Counting by 7s	Holly Goldberg Sloan	Page 67
22. In which book do children ignore their chores, race down the street and climb trees?	Under the Mesquite	Guadalupe Garcia McCall	Page 118
23. In which book is a character told he will need a note from his parents to buy poison?	Dead End in Norvelt	Jack Gantos	Page 203
24. In which book are a car's seats armored with duct tape and the exterior is a rusted moonscape of holes and dents?	Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children	Ransom Riggs	Page 31
25. In which book does a character learn in school to never show any emotion?	Death Cloud	Andrew Lane	Page 10
26. In which book does a character hold a bundle and instantly feel the warmth of its little body penetrating through her coat?	Between Shades of Gray	Ruta Sepetys	Page 20
27. In which book does a character recall his mom spent a million hours getting an adult day care going?	Diamonds in the Shadow	Caroline B. Cooney	Page 55

Question	Title	Author
1. In which book is a character's voice tinny and grainy as it emanates from a music-box device deep inside his metal body?
2. In which book does a character rotate which nest he steals eggs from, worried that a farmer might notice that a hen isn't laying as many as she used to?
3. In which book does a character miss being the top chef?
4. In which book does a character turn alliance negotiations upside down in less than twenty-four hours?
5. In which book is a character surprised when his guardian asks him to accompany him to go and get food?
6. In which book does a mother leave the family and run off with the church pastor?
7. In which book does the blessing of corn pollen help keep a character calm and balanced and safe?
8. In which book does a character imagine Orion buckling on his sparkly belt before the nights' hunt?
9. In which book does a character shake his head as he wraps a deadbolt in a thick shop rag and places it by the base of the door?
10. In which book does a character sit and brood with his two dogs crouched and trembling at his feet?
11. In which book does a character ask, "They make computers for the special eddies?"
12. In which book does a character say, "Mom, it's not like you have to know someone well to hate their guts. You don't sit around and have a long conversation and then decide whether or not to hate their guts"?
13. In which book is "aphasia" defined as the inability to speak?
14. In which book does a character understand what it is like to have an authority figure for a father who expects a lot of his son?
15. In which book does a character pace a study floor anxiously, dressed in dark trousers and jacket?
16. In which book do people see growing a product in the New World with slave labor as a road to vast wealth?

17. In which book does a character have a polished mahogany peg extending below one of his knees?
18. In which book does a character spy some fresh doughnuts being dipped in hot oil and topped with chocolate, raspberry jam, or powdered sugar?
19. In which book does a character slap a boy with the full force of her fury?
20. In which book does a character learn how to figure people out and determine who really wants directions to a casino and who wants something else?
21. In which book does a character admit she has never understood coloring books?
22. In which book do children ignore their chores, race down the street and climb trees?
23. In which book is a character told he will need a note from his parents to buy poison?
24. In which book are a car's seats armored with duct tape and the exterior is a rusted moonscape of holes and dents?
25. In which book does a character learn in school to never show any emotion?
26. In which book does a character hold a bundle and instantly feel the warmth of its little body penetrating through her coat?
27. In which book does a character recall his mom spent a million hours getting an adult day care going?		