

mBOBQuiz created on: 7/25/2020 for: dmilem

Question	Title	Author	Reference
1. In which book do a character's eyes fill with tears when told of a plan to get rid of his pet?	Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone	JK Rowling	Page 239
2. In which book does a character turn a job offer down and then start getting phone calls from former professors asking if he realizes that his country needs him?	Bomb	Steve Sheinkin	Page 68
3. In which book does a character spend his first four days of treatment putting everything on his dad, saying if he hadn't pushed him so hard, he would never have done what he did?	Gym Candy	Carl Deuker	Page 309
4. In which book are characters interviewed so professionally that information is given even though they think they are cleverly concealing it?	The Boys Who Challenged Hitler	Phillip Hoose	Page 92
5. In which book does a character feel a fountain of hope bubbling up as she reads the words out loud one more time on a flyer: musical acts welcome?	The First Rule of Punk	Celia C. Perez	Page 92
6. In which book is a family all about quartz?	I'll Be There	Holly Goldberg Sloan	Page 59
7. In which book is a character's aim too high when she intends to kick a man in the shin?	To Kill a Mockingbird	Harper Lee	Page 173
8. In which book has a character gone still and his eyes are as big as coins?	The Bitter Side of Sweet	Tara Sullivan	Page 175
9. In which book is there a drawing of two bathroom stalls with two boys both inside, slapping, pounding, playing percussion on the plastic partition?	Ghost Boys	Jewel Parker Rhodes	Page 165
10. In which book does a character warn a friend not to tell teammates about a rival's mother because it feels wrong and is bad karma?	The Running Dream	Wendelin Van Draanen	Page 169
11. In which book does a character say, "This secret school is our silent protest"?	I Am Malala	Malala Yousafzai	Page 89
12. In which book is an herb garden killed by salt water?	Crow	Barbara Wright	Page 153
13. In which book does a character reach a huge, monstrous hand past a boy and knock another flying across the floor?	A Monster Calls	Patrick Ness	Page 147
14. In which book are ballet flats a character's favorite kind of shoe?	Insignificant Events in the Life of a Cactus	Dusti Bowling	Page 20
15. In which book does a character have long blond hair, almost like a lion's mane?	House Arrest	K. A. Holt	Page 90
16. In which book do students march in a long line, singing "There'll Always Be an England"?	The War that Saved My Life	Kimberly Brubaker Bradley	Page 22
17. In which book does the steady rise and fall of gunfire displayed on monitors indicate that people are facing off against troops?	Legend	Marie Lu	Page 252

www.mybobteam.com

Permission to use is granted to members of MyBOBTeam.com only.

Page 2

18. In which book does a character snatch a little jar of clotted cream from a scone tray?	Serafina and the Black Cloak	Robert Beatty	Page 205
19. In which book does the wind rush past a character's ears as he leans forward over a pony's neck, encouraging him to even greater speed?	The Ruins of Gorlan	John Flanagan	Page 101
20. In which book does a character shoot a girl, explaining she aimed a rifle at him, but admits he didn't really expect to be fighting girls?	Cracker! The Best Dog in Vietnam	Cynthia Kadohata	Page 132
21. In which book does a character tell her mother about the first person to ever do a space walk outside of a spacecraft?	A Night Divided	Jennifer A. Nielsen	Page 32
22. In which book does a character say, "Hold on! Check for traps first, remember"?	Greenglass House	Kate Milford	Page 79

Question	Title	Author
1. In which book do a character's eyes fill with tears when told of a plan to get rid of his pet?
2. In which book does a character turn a job offer down and then start getting phone calls from former professors asking if he realizes that his country needs him?
3. In which book does a character spend his first four days of treatment putting everything on his dad, saying if he hadn't pushed him so hard, he would never have done what he did?
4. In which book are characters interviewed so professionally that information is given even though they think they are cleverly concealing it?
5. In which book does a character feel a fountain of hope bubbling up as she reads the words out loud one more time on a flyer: musical acts welcome?
6. In which book is a family all about quartz?
7. In which book is a character's aim too high when she intends to kick a man in the shin?
8. In which book has a character gone still and his eyes are as big as coins?
9. In which book is there a drawing of two bathroom stalls with two boys both inside, slapping, pounding, playing percussion on the plastic partition?
10. In which book does a character warn a friend not to tell teammates about a rival's mother because it feels wrong and is bad karma?
11. In which book does a character say, "This secret school is our silent protest"?
12. In which book is an herb garden killed by salt water?
13. In which book does a character reach a huge, monstrous hand past a boy and knock another flying across the floor?
14. In which book are ballet flats a character's favorite kind of shoe?
15. In which book does a character have long blond hair, almost like a lion's mane?
16. In which book do students march in a long line, singing "There'll Always Be an England"?
17. In which book does the steady rise and fall of gunfire displayed on monitors indicate that people are facing off against troops?
18. In which book does a character snatch a little jar of clotted cream from a scone tray?

www.mybobteam.com

Permission to use is granted to members of MyBOBTeam.com only.

Page 4

19. In which book does the wind rush past a character's ears as he leans forward over a pony's neck, encouraging him to even greater speed?
20. In which book does a character shoot a girl, explaining she aimed a rifle at him, but admits he didn't really expect to be fighting girls?
21. In which book does a character tell her mother about the first person to ever do a space walk outside of a spacecraft?
22. In which book does a character say, "Hold on! Check for traps first, remember"?		